

Celebrate

Nathan Phillips Career and Technical Education (CTE) Teacher of the Year

The 30th Annual New Hampshire Excellence in Education Awards recognize New Hampshire schools and individuals who meet high standards of excellence. The criteria used in selecting outstanding individuals to be honored are determined by their sponsoring organizations.

Follow us!
@nh-edies

About

Nathan Phillips of Pinkerton Academy is honored as the Career and Technical Education (CTE) Teacher of the Year by the New Hampshire Career and Technical Education Association (NHCTA). His lifelong dedication to CTE and his role as an electrical CTE educator have set a high standard in both the educational and industrial communities. Selected for the NH-CTE Edie, Nathan exemplifies the qualities of an outstanding teacher, collaborator, and mentor. Nathan is a key figure in the Electrical CTE field, not only within Pinkerton Academy but also across New Hampshire. His initiatives and teaching strategies have significantly influenced local and statewide CTE programs, promoting high standards and continuous improvement. His impact extends far beyond his classroom, making him a "go-to" for teachers, a top educator for all levels, and a trusted partner for industry.